DEALING WITH GOVERNMENT

Communicating Effectively With Government Committees

Encounters with townships and county government can be frustrating and sometimes intimidating. The following is advice for the citizen who is petitioning the Zoning Committee to obtain a Conditional Use Permit, a Special Exception Permit or to rezone property, or appealing the Board of Adjustment for a variance.

- Know your facts. If you present incorrect data, the truth will catch up and you'll lose credibility.
- Know exactly what is required to permit you to speak before the committee and for how long, either in support or opposition. Don't go over the limit.
- Know the economic results of your request, both to yourself and others.
- Bring your own accurate maps, drawings, etc. Don't expect the Town to prepare your information for you.
- Make your illustrations large enough for all to see.
- Be prepared for questions on how your proposal will affect your neighbors, traffic flow, drainage, noise, property valuations, etc.
- Have an attorney study the statutes and ordinances relating to your proposal, if you need help interpreting them.
- Tell the truth, negative and positive.
- Keep the committee informed at all stages of your plan.
- Follow up. Show a continuing interest until you get action.
- Be patient. Your proposal isn't the only item on the agenda.
- Learn the bureaucratic channels and go through them. Contact those directly involved first, such as the supervisor in the district your proposal would affect, as well as your town chairman, but don't contact them before 9 a.m. or after 9 p.m. They deserve a private life, too.
- Don't attempt to buy favors from officials and don't make threats if they don't agree with you.
- Realize that officials have guidelines to follow and standards to meet.

PETITION TO REZONE AND CONDITIONAL USE IMPACT STATEMENT

Changes in use of property associated with rezones and conditional use permits can have impacts on adjoining and nearby properties which can be difficult to anticipate. Sometimes these impacts may seem unperceivable to the applicant, but they may be profound on neighboring properties.

1. Prepare an outline of your proposal, something similar to a “business plan”, detailing for the Plan Commission and the Town Board your proposal.
2. Include any other documentation you feel necessary as part of your presentation in defining your proposal for the Plan Commission, the Town Board, and the county board. It is vital to your application to consult with professionals you feel may be able to assist with your application (i.e. surveyor, attorney, engineer, etc.).
3. Describe the frequency and/or intensity of any characteristic associated with your proposed use of property that may impact your property or neighboring properties and strategies to minimize potentially adverse impacts. Anticipate possible future growth or expansion. The following list of potential impacts is not all inclusive.

If your proposed use of property involves a characteristic not listed, include it in your presentation.

- Traffic – count, current & anticipated, type (i.e. cars, delivery trucks, etc.), off street parking
- Lighting/glare
- Noise
- Signage/Advertising
- Number of employees
- Anticipated number of customers and customer type (i.e. general public, distributors, etc.)
- Hours of operation, days open
- Building(s) used, location of use within building, new buildings proposed
- Products involved – retail, wholesale, and/or assembly on site
- Refuse, waste, or by-products generated and method of treatment
- Smoke, odor, dust or other emissions created
- Aesthetics, changes to structures, changes in landscape appearance, ground cover or tree removal
- Potential changes relating to health and/or safety of landowner and public

- Items stored in conjunction with proposed land use, location of outside storage
- Access to site (i.e. sight distance, slope degree, shared access, easements, ingress/egress, driveway permit requirements (town, county or Wisconsin DOT))
- Any covenants or deed restrictions that may apply to your lot or within your subdivision

Be prepared to give a professional and detailed presentation when called upon at the public hearing before the Plan Commission. Contact the county where you are located prior to the public hearing for any county review and tentative approvals or permits that may be required. Review town and county land use plans to make sure your proposal is consistent with these plans. If not consistent, discuss amending the plan with the town and/or county planning agency prior to application. Town Zoning staff will recommend denial if a proposal conflicts with the town or county land use plan.

DON'T RUSH YOUR APPLICATION. It is better to give yourself another 30 days to ensure that all impacts associated with your proposal are detailed completely and you are prepared to give a proper presentation than to hurry and have your petition denied because it is not complete. Incomplete applications will not be placed on the public hearing agenda. It is also highly advisable to discuss your proposal with neighboring property owners prior to applying. The application fee is not refundable if your application is denied and you will not be eligible to re-apply until after 12 months from the date of denial by the Town Board. Please be advised that paying the fee and following this guidance sheet does not guarantee approval.
